Half Day Activities

Disappearing animals

Become an 'Animal Tracker' or 'Poo Hunter' and go off the beaten track to search for tracks and trails. Children will use all their senses to uncover the secret world of Flatford's wildlife and how humans impact on them. Discover the world of wildlife hidden within the landscape; warrens, burrows, nests and hollows all hide signs of the animals that live there. Children minibeast hunt to explore the busy world of wildlife that crawls, flies, walks and hops throughout the countryside.

Secret Ponds

Get wet and muddy, pond dipping, investigating the strange creatures that live in our ponds. Can you find the animal that breathes through a snorkel? Children will immerse themselves in life beneath the surface and explore how invertebrates survive in this freshwater habitat.

Hidden Histories

Become a history investigator and explore ancient buildings, famous landscapes and people of the past. Investigate how Flatford would have looked in Georgian times. Follow in the footsteps of John Constable to learn about his life, Flatford's buildings and his Art.

Wilderness Bushcraft

Can you survive out in the wild woods of Flatford? Using existing and new skills children will be challenged to create survival shelters and have a go at gathering material for, and creating a small fire.

Evening Activities

Night walk

Challenge your senses on this wildlife discovery walk. Children will test their night vision against nocturnal animals and explore their adaptations.

Music, songs and campfires

Huddle together around the fire, for an evening of entertainment, stories and music. Sit back and relax with a hot chocolate or crank up the volume with homemade musical instruments and performances round the fire.
